Intro:

He comes on stage with a smile
He has teeth like a Nile croco-dile
He does some small tricks and some prestidigita-tion
His lovely assi-stant causes quite a sen-sation
As she climbs in a coffin and pulls down the top
He takes out a saw, some-body yells "Stop"

He's sawing a lady in half
He makes a small joke, everyone laughs
There's nothing to fear `cause it's all done with mirrors
Sawing a lady in half {234 1234 1234 123}

He saws and she screams but it's all in good fun
He pushes, both halves, ap-art when he's done
His lovely assi-stant wrinkles her nose
Across the room, she wiggles her toes

He's sawing a lady in half
He makes a small joke, everyone laughs
There's nothing to fear `cause it's all done with mirrors
He's sawing a lady in half {234 1234 1234 123}

The cut is so clean, there's no blood or no gore
No messy liquids run out on the floor
The ladies all faint and the men all turn green
It is the most wonderous thing that they've seen

He's sawing a lady in half
He makes a small joke, everyone laughs
There's nothing to fear `cause it's all done with mirrors
He's sawing a lady in half {234 1234 1234 123}
