

If I Were You

If I was good I'd tell everyone I know
If I was free I wouldn't be so keen to go
If I was wrong I would take it like a man
If I was smart I would get out while I can

If I was broken I would probably let it be
If I was dying I wouldn't go out quiet-ly
If I was lost, well my heart would feel the same
If I was honest I would probably be a-shamed

But if I were you I would notice me
If I were you I would wait for me
If I were you I would easily hold me
And say it's all gonna be O-K

If I was rich I would spend it on my own
If I was dignified I'd only smoke at home
If I was dark, well I'd only dress in black
If I was chosen I would gladly give it back

But if I were you I would notice me
If I were you I would wait for me
If I were you I would easily hold me
And say it's all gonna be O-K

It's not for you to judge from all this kind of stuff
I'm only half of what you see

But if I were you I would notice me
If I were you I would wait for me
If I were you I would easily hold me
And say it's all gonna be O-K

It's all gonna be O-K
