

Get Back Change

artist:Ron Hynes , writer:Ron Hynes

I left home for the bright lights, to find some city night life you're a fool boy is what my mama said,

But from those harbour lights I strayed
Down the Gardiner Expressway
in old familiar footsteps did I tread

In these shoes all worn and tattered,
with a heart so blue and shattered
seemed like everything that mattered once was dead

Cause you could spend, spend and spend
and never get back change Your're a fool boy is what my mama said.

So here's to Roy, Dick and Harry Cause it helped ease the worry that you naturally feel so far from home

And if its not the way you're brought up, it's easy to get caught up in a life thats bound to leave you all a-lone

In this suit of empty pockets, there's a face inside a locket hopes that I don't have to hock it, for a bed

Cause you could spend, spend and spend
and never get back change
Your're a fool boy is what my mama said.

Yeah you could spend, spend and spend,
and never get back change
Your're a fool boy is what my mama said.

I left home for the bright lights,
the fast Toronto night life Your're a fool boy ...

But from those harbour lights I strayed
in old familiar footsteps did I tread

In these shoes all worn and tattered,
with a heart so blue and shattered
seemed like everything that mattered once was dead

and never get back change
Your're a fool boy is what my mama said.

Yeah you could spend, spend and spend,
and never get back change
Your're a fool boy is what my mama said.
